

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to express my interest in the New Grad Registered Nurse position in the Critical Care Unit at this hospital, as advertised. Having had a rewarding experience as a student nurse in the post-surgical unit at PIH, I am eager to continue my professional journey with your esteemed institution.

With a Bachelor of Science in Biology from the University of California, Riverside, and currently pursuing my Bachelor of Science in Nursing at Azusa Pacific University, I bring a robust foundation in the biological sciences and a keen commitment to patient care.

During my time as a Student Nurse at PIH, I have had the privilege to assist in post-surgical patient care, providing essential services such as bathing, oral hygiene, ambulation, and answering call lights. My role allowed me to engage with diverse patient populations, demonstrating my fluency in English and Spanish and my ability to communicate effectively with patients and their families.

I am well-versed in medication administration, patient assessments, and wound care, and I have demonstrated strong organizational skills, time management, and attention to detail. My experience as a Housing Specialist and Case Manager II at Project 180 LA has further enhanced my interpersonal skills and my ability to collaborate effectively with multidisciplinary teams.

I am passionate about providing high-quality care and am excited about the opportunity to contribute to the Critical Care Unit at this hospital. I am confident that my background in biology and nursing, combined with my dedication to patient-centered care, make me a strong candidate for this position.

Thank you for considering my application. I am looking forward to the opportunity to discuss how I can contribute to the critical care team at PIH Health Hospital.

Sincerely,

Gerardo Gonzalez
